Lamplighter

Peter, I would like to thank you for your much valued coaching last year assisting me with my public speaking skills.

The events which I spoke at ranging from my wife's birthday to a staff function of 70 and then our grand opening of our new building where over 250 customers, staff & partners and the dignitaries such as the Mayor and his wife were present. All went extremely well.

Even though each speech was quite different I learnt that the basic principles are similar.

I now feel more comfortable and confident in writing speeches, speaking publicly and making presentations to colleagues and customers.

Thanks again Peter and I would have no hesitation in recommending you and your services to anyone seeking these skills.

Regards
